SPEECH WAS WELL RECEIVED

Immense Crowd Heard Congressman Watson at Richmond, Ind.

Speaker Praises Daniel G. Reid, Richmond Millionaire, Who Built Hospital.

In its account of the dedication of the D. G. Reid Memorial hospital at Richmond, Thursday, the Item of that city says concerning the dedicatory address, delivered by Congressman James E. Watson, of this city:

Mr. Rupe then introduced Congressman James E. Watson, the principal speaker of the day. Mr. Watson was warmly received and spoke, in part, as follows:

"We are assembled here today on an unique occasion. Laying aside the business cares of life, the people of the community have gathered to give our heartfelt thanks to those who have made such an occasion possible. We come to pay honor to achievement and philanthropy. Richmond is far-famed for its beautiful streets, its spacious lawns, its handsome residences, its institutions of learning and the intelligence of its citizens, but this occasion represents something different from these. There is peculiar meeting of the practical and sentimental here, and the generous spirit of charity pervades the atmosphere.

"What is the duty of the rich man? Daniel G. Reid has answered that question. I am not here to give a harangue against wealth. Wealth is essential to our national existence.

It has given us the railroads, the telegraph, the steamship lines and the scores of industries which make life more enjoyable to all. It is not in the acquisition of wealth, but in its use, that the abuses exist. What right has the author to withhold from this world his gems of thought, or the scientist to keep secret the great discoveries which he makes? So it is with wealth. He enjoys his wealth most who makes the most people happy because of it. Thank God that Daniel G. Reid has learned so soon that this is true.

"Today you welcome Mr. Reid home, and it is in the spirit of homecoming that he is here among his old friends. I knew from the hearty hand shakes he received from those who met him at the station, not only the members of the reception committee, but the railroad employees and others who chanced to meet him, that the welcome he is given is from the heart. A working man said to me today: 'Dan Reid was a good fellow when he didn't have a dollar, and he is a good fellow yet.'

"Back of the spirit to make money is the spirit of philanthropy. What means this splendid institution? What means yonder stately church? They mean that during this man's life he has taken time to think of the mother that nursed him, of the father that counseled him, of the wife who for many years shared his happiness, and of the child that was taken away in youth, and that to them he has erected enduring memorials which will be blessings to this community for generations to come.

"Such gifts as these settle the question of what men may do with their wealth. In his future years, I doubt not, as he hears of the good work this hospital is doing, there will come to him the words uttered centuries ago by the man of Gallilee: 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto Me.'

Commander L. D. Tackett, of the Indiana G. A. R. has appointed Ben. L. Smith, of this city, as a member of the committee on Preservation of Flags, and Captain J. H. Mauzy, also of this city, as a member of the committee on Military Instruction and Patriotic Instruction in the Public Schools.

—Miss Ruth Tovis has returned home from a three-weeks' visit with relatives at Indianapolis.

WILL TEST THE CASE

Parlor Car Company Maintains Its Right to Sell Beer on Trains

Bloomington, Ind., July 29.—A personal difficulty between Walter Williams, a colored porter of a Monon parlor car, and Nicholas Eppinghousen of Louisville, a passenger, promises to end in a controversy that will be appealed to the higher courts for a decision as to whether liquors can be sold in Indiana without a license in each county.

About three weeks ago Eppinghousen was struck by the porter, who alleged that he did it in self-defense. Arrests followed. Eppinghousen testified that he bought beer by the pint in the parlor car while it was in this county. The result was that the porter was not only fined for assault, but also for selling liquor without license. The railway company stayed the last case and will appeal to the circuit court, and a decision will be insisted on here by the officers of the state finally to determine the right.

RUSH COUNTY'S PHONE SYSTEM

Independent Exchanges in Every Direction from This City—Are Well Equipped.

Rush county is covered by an independent telephone system. There is an independent telephone exchange in every village and town in this county, and the stranger coming to this city cannot point his finger in any direction in which there is not a modern telephone plant.

South of this city, the New Salem exchange, lately installed and improved, covers a radius of miles with a network of wires, which makes every man in the vicinity a next-door neighbor. In the east is the Orange telephone plant; in the northeast, the Falmouth company, and in the north, the Raleigh exchange. Then besides all these here are modern plants in Carthage, Arlington, and Milroy.

The Rushville Co-Operative company, besides having many phones in this city, has now a party line running on every road which leaves this city. The approximate estimate of all the telephone in this county is 2400, and the prospects are good at present for a large and steady increase.

It is rumored that at the present time that there is a movement among local and out-of-town telephone men to form all of these systems into a federation for mutual benefit. If this is done the independent telephone system in this county will be greatly strengthened, and the public will be given better toll service. A telephone directory may be published, and will enable any one to call up nearly any man in the county with little trouble and in a short time.

MIGHT APPLY IN THIS CITY

Think it Over and Adopt it Right Here in Rushville.

People Should Take Pride in Their Home Town—Help Make the City Beautiful.

Read this appeal made to the citizens of Denver by that city's mayor, who desires that tourists and investors shall behold in it the "city beautiful," which the civic improvement movement is everywhere promoting. The hints issued by him were taken in active faith by the city's population and a notable change has come over the place.

Here are his rules and while you read them, think how well the prescription would work in towns or even villages. Every suggestion is simple and easy of fulfillment. No fortunes are called for, no demand even upon one's time nor energies. The will to do is the main thing required here and the proper amount of that will prove the truth of the assertion at the bottom of this article.

If your store front, residence or fence is dull or dingy, order it painted.

If your awning is old, torn or faded, get a new one.

If your sidewalks, fence or gate needs repairing, fix it.

Destroy the young weeds that are starting on your property and on your neighbor's property.

If your advertising sign is old or faded, take it down or paint it.

Resolve never to throw paper in the streets.

Take all dandelions out of your lawn—they spoil its beauty.

Burn all rubbish possible.

Allow no one to throw it on the streets, alleys or vacant lots.

Promise not to spit on the sidewalk. Organize a block improvement society and allow no weeds to grow on sidewalks, area or vacant property in your block.

Ask your milkman, groceryman and expressman to have their wagons painted.

Irrespective of the size of your houses, make your lawn the finest.

Illuminate the front of your store in the business section.

Every effort put forth or dollar spent to improve our city's appearance will be returned two fold.

SOCIETY NEWS

Yesterday being Scott Conde's birthday anniversary, Mrs. Conde planned a surprise party in his honor that worked admirably. Mrs. Conde came to town and invited all the members of the Ananias club out too her home, in company with several other friends who went out on the 3 o'clock car. Isaac Ford was carefully assisting Mr. Conde in cutting weeds at a safe distance from the house. Meanwhile the company was being stored away. When Mr. Conde was brought to the house his surprise was complete and he was forced to admit it. Many attempts have been made to surprise him, but yesterday's surprise was the first successful one. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. A jolly good time was had, and it is reported that the way those "Ananias fellows" span yarns would make old Anias himself turn green with envy.

—Earl Churchill will witness Haggenback's trained animal show at Indianapolis, next week.

—Mrs. T. H. McConnell and daughter Mildred are expected home this afternoon. Mrs. McConnell's mother, Mrs. Brown, will come with them.

—Mr. and Mrs. Omer McMahan and daughter, Mildred, of Warren, Ohio, who had been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McMahan, returned home Tuesday after a month's stay.

FALL TRADE ADVICES

According to Bradstreet These Are Very Favorable at the Present Time.

New York, July 29.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: Crop report and fall trade advices are more unanimously favorable than at any preceding time this season. Confidence in the crop situation is reflected by good fall orders and a volume of wholesale and retail trade certainly in excess of a year ago and fully equal to the average at this season. Special activity is noted in cotton goods, which are in eager demand at high prices, with scarcity of desirable makes widely reported. Trade in woolen fabrics is good, confirmation of this being found in freer buying by manufacturers of raw material at ruling high prices.

MAMMOTH CORN CROP PREDICTED

Farmers Throughout County Talking About Phenomenal Growth.

The farmers of Rush county are jubilant over the corn crop prospects, which will probably surpass those of any previous year. At least, that is the opinion of a number of old time tillers of the soil, who note with keen interest the difference in crops from year to year.

Corn on both high and low lands is doing excellently and the indications point to the fact that this will be the largest crop ever gathered in this county. In some localities corn is a little behind that in other localities, but taking the general run, the crop will be far above the general average. Some of the farmers planted a variety of corn which grows high and it is indeed high corn. Some of this is already standing from twelve to thirteen feet. The ears are away up on the stalk and those who have examined them assert that the grain is forming nicely and that the ears will be well filled.

Not only in Rush county do these conditions exist, but the reports are similar throughout the State. The weather has been in favor of corn and unless something unforeseen arises to injure the growing corn between this and frost, the Indiana crop will be a mammoth one.

ADMITS CUTTING CLIFFORD CROSS

Ricks, Under Arrest Says He Did it in Self Defense—Cross is Better.

Edward Ricks, who was returned to New Castle, after having been captured in Muncie for cutting and seriously wounding Clifford Cross, of Charlottesville, says that he was not trying to escape the authorities, but that he had planned to make a trip to Muncie, and went anyway. He admits that he is the man who plunged the knife into the abdomen and side of the injured man, but thus far he has failed to throw any light on the motive and the authorities are as much in the dark as they ever have been, although they have established the fact that the scrap was brought about through the attentions one of the men involved paid to a colored woman who was present and witnessed the cutting, but still enjoys her liberty.

Cross is a married man, and the father of two children. His wife is now at Indianapolis, where she will undergo a surgical operation within a short time. The colored woman's name in the case is said to be Mary Winslow and her record is "bad." Although Cross is some better in a few respects, the attending physician is just a little afraid of blood poisoning.

DR. MOORE IS OUT OF IT

Physiologist of the Department of Agriculture Resigns.

A Product for Enriching the Soil Found in Him an Over Warm Advocate.

Washington, July 29.—George T. Moore, physiologist of the department of agriculture, has tendered his resignation to Secretary Wilson, and it has been accepted. This action is the culmination of a hearing at the department at which it was charged by two representatives of an agricultural publication that Moore's wife held stock in a company manufacturing culture for soil inoculation, while Moore who had charge of the preparation and revision of bulletins regarding the enrichment of farms, directed farmers to the concern in question for their supplies of the cultures.

Moore admitted that his wife owned the stock, that stock was to come to him in the event that he severed his connection with the department and became the bacteriologist of the concern, but that in the latter part of April he decided to stay with the department, and the stock was no longer held in his family.

It also was alleged that the culture had been supplied by the department to the concern mentioned in undue quantities, Moore being charged with shipping seventeen pounds in a single day, himself prepaying expenses.

The resignation of Dr. Moore and its acceptance were announced in a statement issued by the department. This statement consists of Dr. Moore's letter to the secretary and an attached explanation of Moore's relations with the Nitro Culture company, the concern manufacturing the material for soil inoculation. The resignation was endorsed by Secretary Wilson, to take effect immediately.

In his letter to Secretary Wilson, Dr. Moore says: "In view of the criticism which has been made against my work and the position I am placed in by this criticism, I feel that the department should be relieved of any difficulty which may arise through my present connection with it."

TRAINS SPEED THROUGH CITY

Railroad Men do Not Heed City Speed Ordinance—Trains Run Too Fast.

The railroad men who run trains through this city, seem to have forgotten that several years ago the city council made an ordinance prohibiting the speeding of trains within the city limits. At least, if they have not forgotten it, they do not wish to obey the law, because the trains on the several roads entering this city make a rate of speed, which is double that allowed by the city ordinance. These unlawful acts are dangerous to the lives of the citizens in this community, and the abuse will no doubt continue until some horrible railroad accident occurs, as there seems to be no one with the authority to give the railroad company its orders. It may be that when some one is caught under a train and his body scattered from one corporation line to the other, that city officials will notice that some passenger trains pass over several of our main streets at a rate of not less than forty miles an hour.

Some of the trains which arrive in this city in the night especially, run at the above named rate of speed. It is more dangerous to the public at night than it is in day time, on account of the fact that the flagmen are off duty. This violation of the law should be suppressed before the public suffers injury.

—Mr. and Mrs. John E. Humes spent the day in Indianapolis.

SOME TAX SURPRISES

What the Assessment Sheets from Various Counties Show.

Indianapolis, July 29.—Of eighty-nine counties that have forwarded their assessment sheets to the state board of tax commissioners, now in session, twenty-five show a decrease in the personal property assessment in 1905 over that of 1904. The most notable decreases are in three of the gas belt counties—Blackford, Grant and Madison, the decrease from last year being $224,195 for Blackford, $261,650 for Grant and $794,450 for Madison, this last decrease being the largest recorded in the state. In spite of the great development of the coal fields in Sullivan county, the decrease there is $276,360. This is the more remarkable in view of the fact that Knox county, the next adjoining south, and equally active so far as new coal mines are concerned, shows an increase of almost a million dollars, the second largest increase of the state, the greatest being $1,061,955 in Delaware county. Another surprise is found in Jay county, where the decrease is $119,960 in spite of the constantly increasing values placed on oil properties there.

M'CORD LOSES A HARD GAME

Crack Twirler Has Another Bad Inning and Goes to Pieces.

Johnny McCord lost another game for Rushville at Lancaster, O., yesterday afternoon, in exactly the same manner that he did the last Greensburg and Connersville games. A telephone message from Manager Geraghty, last night, stated that the game for eight innings was one of the prettiest that he had ever seen. Rushville had Lancaster out-classed and beaten during that time and the men on both teams were putting up phenomenal pail. Rushville scored a run each, in the second, third and eighth innings, and Lancaster scored one run in the second.

McCord, however, was destined not to escape his usual bad inning. In the ninth he grew wild, hit two men and walked one. His work demoralized the team and three errors were made, permitting Lancaster to score three runs and winning the game.

The feature of the game was the heavy hitting of the Rushville team. Joe Herold secured a three base hit and Taylor clouted one for two bases. Rushville plays at Lancaster again today and tomorrow. Dugan or Wagner will pitch today.

Score: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—R H E
Rushville 0 1 1 0 0 0 1 0—3 7 4
Lancaster 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 3—4 3 2
Two base hits, Taylor and Dennis; three base hit, Herold; struck out, by Johns 11, by McCord 7; batteries, McCord and Hiatt, Johns and Coburn; umpire, Price; time, 1:22; attendance, 850.

A BUSY SEASON FOR THE I. & C.

Connersville and Greensburg Lines Will be Built at the Same Time.

Connersville News: With every assurance now that the Connersville extension of the I. & C. traction will be pushed forward without delay, it seems also likely that the same company will do a large amount of work on their Greensburg extension from Shelbyville. Steam shovels will, it is thought, be used for the big cuts at Williams Creek and elsewhere, where heavy grading is needed.

The sale of houses in this city on the right-of-way will take place Saturday, and soon after that work may begin in this city.

GREAT CENTER OF ACTIVITY

Rushville Merchants and Manufacturers are Very Properous.

City Prominent in All Lines of Municipal, Commercial and Industrial Endeavor.

Few people in Rushville are aware of the fact that they are residing in a small metropolis, a center of industry that stands a model for small cities. As a commercial and industrial center Rushville has few equals, for its size, among the cities of the State. The town is a model municipality. It has model officers, in a way, a splendid Bar, strong professional men, beautiful residences, magnificent stores, large factories, four good banks, an excellent supply of natural gas, great educational privileges, and strong religious denominations.

The surrounding country is very wealthy and to it Rushville owes its excellent commercial activity. Rushville and Rush county are located in the garden spot of the world. The soil is of the very finest quality and most excellent crops are raised. Agriculture is one line of industry to which people adhere. The city includes, among its inhabitants, many retired farmers, who not only interest themselves in the city's welfare, but take pride in making their homes appear neat and trim and in keeping their lawns in beautiful shape.

Rushville's public buildings are among the finest in the State. Rush county's magnificent court house occupies an entire block in the very heart of the business district, is constructed entirely of Bedford stone, and is the pride of each and every resident of the city. It is one of the most beautiful buildings in the State. The churches too are of an exceedingly high class architectural design and their tall spires and massive outlines grace the most beautiful parts of the town. At the present time the United Presbyterian congregation is erecting a handsome stone edifice on one of the principal and most beautiful of the city's thoroughfares. The fine new Masonic Temple is also in course of erection and it will add much grace and style to the business section of the town.

With rapid strides our city has taken a foremost place among the municipalities of Indiana. Its future is one that can be contemplated with pleasure by its energetic inhabitants. In ten years it has advanced from a struggling village to a modern up-to-date city, with all improvements. Its history has been a history of triumphs and successes which its model appearance is a witness. In business activity it is far ahead of any town in this part of the State. Large and prosperous commercial houses have come to be typical in Rushville and our progressive merchants enjoy a large out of town following. Our citizens have no right or reason to go to larger places to trade, for our enterprising merchants are students of style, quality and novelty and are more than able to meet any competition. Every line of industry is in a thriving and prospering condition and our city can well be proud of the excellent character of its merchants.

Rushville's transportation facilities are unexcelled for it has four large railway systems, and an interurban line to Indianapolis. There are also bright prospects of traction lines from here to Connersville and Shelbyville. All in all with the educational, commercial, transportation and other facilities which this city enjoys show better than all else what our city has accomplished and what it will accomplish in the future with its intense activity. In the space below we have endeavored to give brief sketches of our local merchants and business men. In their particular lines they are in a position to compete with any. A glance at their work and reputation as portrayed by these sketches show the character and line of their efforts. To insure prosperity to our city it is essential that these men be accorded the universal and untiring support of the people of Rushville.

THE HOME FURNISHING CO.

The Home Furnishing Co. is without doubt one of the finest mercantile establishments in the southern part of the State. The firm is an old one, and has always enjoyed a liberal patronage to which its prosperous appearance is a silent witness. Their store room is modern in every particular, and the beautiful building which they occupy is a credit to the appearance of the city. The magnitude of the concern made incorporation necessary and the following are the men who direct the fortunes of this big enterprise: E. R. Churchill, President; W. M. Pearce, Vice-President; John E. Hume, Secretary and Treasurer. The store is very beautifully arranged inside, the ground floor ceiling being supported by seven beautiful pillars of very artistic design. Three stories are used to display the highest class furniture of all descriptions, and the other story is used for storage. A large modern passenger elevator conducts the patrons of this large concern from the first to the higher floors. This one feature shows better than anything else the character of the place. It is very beautifully decorated, and it well deserves the fine reputation it enjoys among lovers of the artistic. In connection with the furniture department they run an excellent undertaking establishment. Undertaking and embalming are done by them in the most thorough manner and with the use of the most improved modern processes. The men that comprise this firm are numbered among the first of the city's leading business men, and Messrs. Churchill, Pearce and Hume are deserving of the earnest support of everyone in their endeavor to give this city such an excellent establishment.

THE FARMERS BANK.

The banking business is one of the most potent agencies in building up the industry and commerce of a city, and in consequence an important factor in the development of her wealth. One of the most substantial institutions of this kind in our city is the Farmers Bank, which opened its doors for business on the nineteenth of August, 1891. It is a private bank and has carefully complied with the new law governing private banks. This model institution has a paid in capital of $10,000 and a surplus of $6,000 which it has accumulated from the profits of its business in addition to the ten per cent annual dividends it has always paid members of the company. In addition to the capital and surplus the personal liabilities of the members is unlimited, and not limited to double the amount invested as in incorporated banks. In all the time they have been in business they have had only $32.50 in bad paper. The following well-known citizens and property owners comprise the company: Geo. H. Puntney, Joel F. Smith, Jas. M. Wilcox, Wm. E. Wallace, Cyrus F. Mullin, R. C. Hargrove, Mary Dean, D. H. Dean, Phoebe Irvin, Belle Kerr and A. B. Irvin. This bank has passed through two panics with safety and credit to itself as a financial institution. It carries a secondary reserve of quick assets in the shape of bonds which is at its disposal for "panicky" times. Its career from the outset has been one of steady growth and prosperity. The bank enjoys the confidence and patronage of a large circle of customers, embracing leading manufacturers, merchants, business men and individuals and it has always done its full share towards the development of the industrial and commercial advancement of the locality.

CHARLES F. EDGERTON.

Numbered among the various mercantile institutions which take the lead in their particular line of business, is that of C. F. Edgerton, one of the largest hardware concerns in this section. This prosperous business firm was formed fifteen years ago, and Mr. Edgerton took possession four years ago. From its inception to the present time this store has ever been one of the leaders and most successful exponents of the hardware trade in this section. Mr. Edgerton carries one of the most complete stocks in their line to be found anywhere, consisting of shelf and heavy hardware, stoves, farm implements of all kinds, sporting goods, in fact we could go on almost indefinitely enumerating the stock, but our space will not permit. The house also contracts very extensively in tinning and its kindred lines, carrying also a most complete line of supplies for this purpose. All work in this line is executed thoroughly and promptly, a number of experienced hands being constantly employed.

The store occupied by this firm is located on North Main street, and in all departments the utmost care is used in the selection of goods, and the purchaser can depend upon all representations made. Mr. C. F. Edgerton is a man who is striving to further the interests and welfare of the community.

FRANK WALLACE.

Among the many businesses that demand particular skill and attention to the work, there are none that demand it more than photography. Photography without the artistic touch and proper appliances can not compete successfully in this modern day and age. Mr. Frank Wallace is an exponent of all that is advanced and successful in photography and with what success can be no more aptly shown than by a glance at the character of his trade and a visit to his modern studio. Mr. Wallace caters to the best trade and consequently his studio is one of the most complete in this part of the State. He is an eager and conscientious student of photography and his work is of the highest character. He gained his enviable reputation only after a long and painful apprenticeship. He makes a specialty of artistic flashlights. Mr. Wallace is a metropolitan photographer with metropolitan ideas and his work is thoroughly appreciated by a grateful public.

V. B. BODINE & SON.

Of the many retail shoe houses in our city none enjoy a better reputation and patronage than V. B. Bodine & Son, our popular shoe dealers. This firm came into existence fifty years ago through the efforts of V. B. Bodine, and that the firm is thoroughly trusted by the public is shown by the length of time they have been in business, and the volume of trade now enjoyed. People have come to look upon this store for all that is reliable and reasonable in the line of footwear. This firm does business under the well known name of Bodine's New Era and the distinctive sign by which it is known is "The Big Boot." For the past eight years Mr. Henry Schenkel has been connected with the firm in the repair department and his work, as everyone knows, speaks for itself. Mr. A. E. Fleebart, a man of ripe experience is the head salesman and he has a very able assistant in the person of Mr. Joe Miller. The place of business is nicely appointed and stocked with a fine assortment of boots, shoes and rubber goods. It only remains for us to say that this company has attained a reputation of highest character, and in consequence are enjoying a gratifying trade. Much credit is due these gentlemen for the way they have catered to the public for the past fifty years.

MAUZY & DENNING.

In no feature of progress does our city so nearly approach a truly metropolitan appearance as in the excellence of the establishment of which we are about to make mention, that of Mauzy & Denning, our great department store, and which is readily made manifest by a tour through the mercantile thoroughfare of the house. This store which is conducted on a very large scale employs more clerks than any other firm in the city and occupies 14,000 square feet of floor space. The store is a large double one and on the ground floor we find the ladies' ready to wear and dry goods department which is in charge of Mr. Charles A. Mauzy, one of the proprietors. We also find on this floor a high-class shoe department which is in charge of Mr. Denning, the junior member of the firm. On the second floor we find a very complete line of domestic and imported carpets and curtains which aptly demonstrate the taste and discrimination of the buyer. Mr. Mc Bride. In the basement is the house furnishings and notions department which is very ably managed by Hugh Mauzy and Carl Morris two of our bustling young business men who have already shown an extraordinary amount of business ability. The store is very beautifully arranged and the modern entrance would cause comment in a city of 30,000. This enterprising house has been established for many years but has only been under the present name since 1898. The store had a small beginning but has gradually grown to the large commodious quarters it occupies now. They have a branch store at New Salem which is very complete and widely patronized. Messrs. Mauzy and Denning are to be congratulated for furnishing this city with such a complete store and one where the people can trade with such implicit confidence.

BEE HIVE STORE.

Among the busiest centers of industry in Rushville, the Bee Hive Store operated by H. G. Hackman, stands out conspicuously. Fortunately it was for Rushville when this busy emporium moved here from Decatur county. Mr. Hackman's efforts have always been characterized by success, but since his store has moved to this city he has been particularly successful. Mr. Hackman conducts a store that is a novelty in Rushville—he handles almost everything. His store is replete with substantial merchandise of every sort and description. He is a man of acute business instinct and he is very ready to anticipate the wishes of the public. Although his stock covers a wide field he has been careful to obtain the best goods possible in every line. In a growing, bustling town like Rushville, a general merchandise store is almost a necessity and it is hoped that Mr. Hackman's store will enjoy the same liberal patronage in the future which it has enjoyed in the past.

DR. J. G. LEWIS.

During the past ten years advancement has been made in all branches and departments of medical science, and during this time Dr. J. G. Lewis has stood forth eminently as a student and a thinker. Dr. Lewis is a member of the Homeopathic school of medicine and received his medical education at the Chicago Homeopathic Medical College, the best of the homeopathic institutions. Having graduated there he returned to Rushville, where from 1895 he has been practicing very successfully. He has been recognized very often by the medical fraternity throughout the State and is now chairman of the Bureau of Mental Diseases of the Indiana Institute of Homeopathy. Dr. Lewis is very liberal in his views and will allow nothing to interfere with the successful treatment of a case. His has been a successful career and it is with pride that he can point to the fact that he has not only a very large practice, but also has a large out-town following. In addition to his extensive general practice he enjoys a large practice in diseases of the eye and ear, having taken a special course of study of those complex organs. Dr. Lewis is a capable, diligent physician and Rushville is proud of the fact that he has settled in our midst.

SUE M. GREGG.

For many years the Gregg Sisters have conducted a highly successful millinery business in our city, at 118 West Second street. Miss Tunnie Gregg was the first proprietress of this establishment and she held sway for ten years, when she was succeeded by her sister, Miss Sue M. Gregg. She took charge about one year ago and has since conducted the business on very successful business principles. Miss Gregg is well known in Rushville and the surrounding country as a young lady of taste and refinement, and this is substantiated by the appearance of her millinery establishment. Miss Gregg is thoroughly up-to-date and enjoys the patronage of our most fashionable ladies. She is always in touch with the metropolitan markets and consequently she is able to make as fashionable creations as can be found in the larger cities. Miss Gregg with her pleasing personality and adaptability, will undoubtedly increase the large volume of business which she already enjoys.

Mr. Kramer has always enjoyed a very generous patronage since he first opened here in 1899, and has an enviable reputation for square dealing, and is recognized throughout the State as one of the first and most eminent meat men.

T. W. BETKER.

Rushville people have often been congratulated by transients and strangers for the appearance and character of the "Smokery," owned and managed by T. W. Betker. That Mr. Betker is a man of taste and art can be no more aptly demonstrated than by a thorough inspection of his beautiful tobacco store. Individual tobacco stores are something which fall only to the fortunes of larger cities, but the splendid trade which Mr. Betker enjoys is proof of the fact that our people appreciate Mr. Betker's taste and enterprise. His store, where he handles the best grades of tobaccos of all description, is finished in the beautiful Turkish effect. His place is amply supplied with magnificent davenports, and in the center of his commodious room is a beautiful fountain. The whole gives one an impression of Sybaritic luxury and discriminating refinement. Mr. Betker will always be held in highest public esteem for he is not only a man with a strong personality but one that is uniformly respected for his business ability.

W. R. MARTIN.

Among the numerous trades with which one comes in contact, none demand more accuracy and real artistic ability than sign painting. In order to be successful in this business it is essential that one be a master workman. W. R. Martin has been conducting a painting establishment at 210 North Main street for three years and during that time his signs and letterings have adorned some of our most prominent business houses. He is artistic and a man who can blend colors admirably and then work out the combination successfully. He makes a specialty of gold, silver, aluminum and painted work and has executed nearly all of our satisfactory work in this line. Mr. Martin is also prepared to do painting on his leisure moments and his services are consequently always in great demand. It is fortunate for the town that a man of Mr. Martin's fine artistic ability is engaged in this line of work.

HARGROVE & MULLIN.

The drug business is carried on in our city by an enterprising class of men, of whom the subject of this sketch, Messrs. Hargrove & Mullin, are worthy representatives. This house was established by Mr. Hargrove in 1895, and Mr. Mullin joined him in 1898. The stock carried comprises pure drugs, chemicals, physician's supplies, standard, patent and proprietary medicines, perfumes, toilet and fancy articles and a line of smokers' supplies. Their line of drugs are the purest that can be found on the market and are always up to a high standard of excellence. A prominent specialty is made of the prescription department, in which the greatest skill, care and accuracy are exercised in compounding physicians' prescriptions and family recipes. R. C. Hargrove, B. Mullin and H. R. Mullin are the enterprising members of the firm. They are well versed in their profession, are obliging and courteous to all patrons, and men who rank high in business circles.

A. B. FLINN.

One of the most popular grocery establishments of our city an one which has taken a front position from its very start, is the grocery store of A. B. Flinn, on West Second street. The store is model of system and neatness, and one of the largest and most comprehensive stocks in the city are carried, consisting of a most complete line of staple and fancy groceries, table delicacies, teas and coffees and the best grades of flour, fresh fruits and vegetables in season. Mr. Flinn is sole distributor for A. C. White's Saginaw Salt. He also handles, to the exclusion of all others, Pinnacle and Old Times Flour. He is the local agent for the sale of Jno. C. Roth Co.'s bacon and hams. It is Mr. Flinn's boast that he is prepared to furnish everything needed on the table, from soup to the tooth picks. Mr. Flinn is well known throughout this section, having been in the grocery business for many years. He gives employment to six clerks. Mr. Flinn's ever increasing business necessitates the employment of that number. Mr. Flinn is an enterprising and honorable business man, and when it comes to giving the best grade at the lowest prices, he stands in no fear of successful competition.

J. W. TOMPKINS.

It is hardly necessary for us to say much of J. W. Tompkins and his place of business for he is known throughout the county as one of Rushville's most substantial business men. Mr. Tompkins has been doing business here for the past seventeen years and in the course of that time has made innumerable friends. His method of dealing has been as square and upright as he is himself. Mr. Tompkins' line of carriages, implements, harness and buggies are second to none in our city. Mr. Tompkins has been here for many years and in that time he has built up a large and influential trade. His goods are manufactured by good standard firms and he has never had the reproaches of his customers for unfair dealing. Personally, Mr. Tompkins is a very pleasant gentleman to meet and without a doubt his pleasing presence has aided him materially in his successful venture.

GEORGE C. WYATT & CO.

Of those houses engaged in the furniture business it is certainly safe to say that none occupy a position more entitled to consideration than the firm of George C. Wyatt & Co. They also carry in connection a modern and complete line of funeral supplies, and they enjoy a fine reputation for completeness and modern contrivances along this line of work. Mr. Wyatt has been in business since 1885, and has enjoyed a steadily increasing trade. His place of business is characteristic of his progressiveness, for it is not only very large, but well appointed. The store occupies the two stories of their building, and it is full of up-to-date furniture of every description. Mr. Wyatt's reputation as a conservative and honest business man is unimpeachable, and he is a moving force for the development of Rushville. His enterprise is a credit to our city and deserving of the liberal patronage he has enjoyed in the past.

GEO. P. ALTMAYER.

Among the many institutions that have helped in giving this city a name as a manufacturing city, the Geo. P. Altmeyer Cigar Manufactory stands in the front ranks. Although Mr. Altmeyer has been in business only two years he has already built up a large trade in his special brands. These brands, X-Cel-O and Fair Promise need no commendation from this paper for their virtues already are firmly fixed in the minds of Rushville smokers. Mr. Altmeyer runs no sweat shop factory, but employs only the highest class labor. He uses only the best tobacco in the composition of his excellent brands. Mr. Altmeyer has, although he is a comparatively new arrival in our midst, already taken a front rank in our local business and social circles.

JOHN C. BLACKLIDGE.

One of the very important positions in our county is that of County Treasurer, to fill which properly its incumbent must be a man of sound and practical education, of large experience, and an honorable, upright man who will discharge his duties with care and precision. We do not hesitate to say that no man was ever better qualified for the position than John C. Blacklidge, and he has fully demonstrated that he is able to fill this most important position in a most capable manner. Elected to this office in 1902 and re-elected in 1904, he has never failed to discharge his duties in a most able manner and is one of the most popular and generally esteemed of our county officials. The good record he has established in office will no doubt be maintained through the present term and his work being well in hand will be carried on more efficiently than ever before. His popularity is universal with all who know him and it is a credit to our county that her officials are men of such worth and attainment.

CALDWELL & CO.

Forty years ago the nucleus of the modern undertaking establishment of Caldwell & Co. had its beginning. Since then it has grown until now it is counted as one of the foremost institutions of its kind in the city. Caldwell & Co. are scientific embalmers and devote their entire time to undertaking. It is the only exclusive undertaking establishment in the city and the two members of the firm, G. H. Caldwell and F. A. Caldwell, are among our best liked business men. Satisfactory treatment is their motto and their ever increasing patronage shows how they stand in public estimation. Their place of business, No. 242 North Main street, is full of appliances of all kinds for this line of work and they are always searching the market to secure the best and most modern improvements.

FRANK EARLY.

Among the many businesses with which our people come in contact, in none is skill and cleanliness more necessary than in a barber shop. In order to run a successful shop the proprietor must have a combination of these two elements. Frank Early has been in business for twenty years and his host of customers is ample proof of the character of his work. Mr. Early runs a shop that would be a credit to a much larger city, and his efforts along this line have been appreciated by his many customers. Mr. Early, himself, superintends the shop and under him he has two thoroughly competent barbers. His place of business is fitted in the most modern and improved style. He uses only the best preparations for his tonsorial work. Mr. Early has done much for this city in giving it this model barber shop, and he will always enjoy the hearty co-operation of our citizens in his efforts.

One of the best equipped and most popular photographic galleries in this city is that of Owen Carpenter, established this April. ## SIGNIFICANT SHOWING

New Orleans Scourge Chiefly Confined to Italians.

New Orleans, July 29.—The men of science who are warring against the yellow fever plague are confident that the situation is still well in hand and with no immediate prospect of becoming alarming. The entire section above Canal street is free from a single new case, and the fever is only spreading in the poorer habitations of the downtown section, with new cases isolated except in the heart of the French market quarter. The health authorities continue to hold also that the plague remains an Italian infection, all but two of the twenty-six cases reported yesterday being of that nationality. Almost without exception since the beginning of the fever those who have fallen victims to the disease have been of the poorer classes of the population, many of them not long residents of the United States and therefore unaccustomed. For several years past the planters of Louisiana have been replacing negroes with Italian labor and there has been a steady flow of immigration from Sicily and other parts of Italy to Louisiana. Many of these immigrants have remained in the city, finding employment in the peddling of fruit or in the work of unloading vessels at the fruit wharves. It is among these that the fever appeared first, and to their lack of acclimatization and the inadequacy of their treatment has been largely due the heavy mortality that has characterized the present visitation of the scourge.

Zionist Plans Discussed.

Basle, Switzerland, July 29.—The discussion of the colonization scheme attracts much attention in the Zionist congress, and a number of conflicting propositions have been discussed. Mr. Cowan of London and Mr. Leon, on behalf of the American delegates, urged that Great Britain's offer of a tract in Uganda be declined. They expressed their conviction that Great Britain having recognized Zionism, would give her aid in securing a tract in Palestine or the vicinity. Other speakers argued strongly in favor of the acceptance of the British offer after a further survey of the Uganda territory.

They Refused to Testify.

Washington, July 29.—The refusal of F. A. Peckham, a New York broker, to answer questions before the grand jury engaged in the investigation of irregularities connected with the cotton crop report of the department of agriculture, was brought to the attention of Judge Wright of the criminal court, but the hearing in the case was postponed until next Monday. Similar action was taken in the case of Moses Haas, who was also before the jury as a witness and refused to testify.

Little Girl's Awful Danger.

Plainfield, N. J., July 29.—A negro believed to be Charles Long, who murdered Matthew Cunningham of Trenton and later escaped from Dismal swamp in South Plainfield, attempted yesterday to carry off one of the little girls of a fresh air camp at Netherwood. The negro failed in his attempt to get away with the little girl, although he dragged her screaming into the woods. There he was forced to leave her and flee for safety.

Awailing Developments.

J., July 29.—All negotiations between the Amalgamated Glass Workers and their employers in conference here are off for the present and the men have returned home, leaving but three of their number here to await developments. ## HOCH'S LIFE SPARED

At Last Moment Chicago "Bluebeard" Gets a Reprieve.

Chicago, July 29.—Johann Hoch, "Bluebeard" and confessed bigamist, sentenced to be hanged for poisoning one of his wives, was yesterday afternoon granted a reprieve until Aug. 25 by Governor Deneen. The stay of execution followed hours of anxiety on the part of Hoch, who had never given up hope, and was allowed by the governor only after the latter had been assured that the necessary sum to appeal the case had been raised. The amount, $500, was given by an attorney and friends of Hoch's counsel. The attorney declared he was actuated purely by humanitarian motives.

All arrangements had been made for the execution, and in view of the action of Governor Deneen Thursday in refusing a stay of execution and similar action by the state board of pardons, Hoch's chance for life was considered slight.

About the time set for the execution the attorney who furnished the money appeared in the case for the first time. This attorney, it was said, telephoned Hoch's lawyer that the former had $500 to give toward aiding to appeal the case. The two lawyers hastened to the jail, told Jailer Whitman of the money secured and arranged with the jailer to postpone as long as possible the execution of Hoch. Meanwhile they sought State's Attorney Healy and had him arrange a conference with Governor Deneen over the long-distance telephone. Hoch's counsel told the governor that there was lacking only a small sum or the amount necessary for a review of the case. After discussing the matter with the state's attorney the governor finally consented to a stay for the condemned man and so notified Hoch's counsel.

Hoch was almost overcome when the word was conveyed to him. He said: "If the supreme court decides against me I am willing to die. I ask no mercy and no favor. I believe in the law, but I feel that if the supreme court has a chance to review the case it will result favorably to me."

Hoch's attorney announced that he would at once prepare to appeal the case.

He was nominee for appellate judge on the Democratic ticket, but was defeated. Mr. Kiplinger was born and raised here, and since leaving the law department of Indiana University, has been practicing law with Mr. Megee. Both gentlemen are well versed in all the finest points of the law and are hard careful students, their strong points being clear forcible statements of their case and fair and honest presentation of the law. In their legal career they have never affiliated nor allowed themselves to be connected with litigation of questionable character, and enjoy the highest respect and esteem of their professional associates. In their personal they have shown themselves possessed of sound judgment, and this united with their profound knowledge of the law have made them among the best legal advisers in this section.

ASHWORTH & STEWART.

No line of commercial or professional endeavor is prosecuted on a better or more prosperous basis here than the drug line, the enterprise and ability of whose promoters has had much to do with advancing our commercial growth. A very progressive house in this trade is that of Ashworth & Stewart, located at the corner of Main and Second streets, which has for many years catered to the best interests in this line. The store is the old Cox & Pugh establishment. Mr. Ashworth buying it almost three years ago and running it until one year ago when Mr. Stewart formed a partnership with Mr. Ashworth, and since that time has acted as manager, while Mr. Ashworth is looking after his business in Connorsville. Mr. Stewart is a man well known to the public for his straight and impartial dealing with people, having gained this reputation during the eleven years in which he acted as teacher in the Rushville High School, and within the last year he has shown people that his dealings in business are the same as in educational work. The establishment carries at all times a large stock of drugs, medicines, toilet soaps, perfumes, periodicals, stationery, school books, paints, oils, etc. The prescription department is unusually well equipped, and prescriptions are filled with the utmost skill and care, this department being made a specialty of the business. Mr. Stewart is among our best known and most public spirited citizens, is prominent in our social and general life, and closely associated with the leading interests of this community.

THE CANDY KITCHEN.

In these days of humbugs, imitation and cheap substitutes, an establishment that adheres to an absolute standard of purity and quality in every branch connected with their business is patronized by the best of people and upheld as an exemplary business institution. Wallace & Caron have been conducting the Candy Kitchen and they have a reputation for furnishing the public with a line of goods which are warranted to be of first class purity and quality. The quarters are well equipped and they enjoy a large sale and a wide reputation throughout for confectionery and ice cream. Theirs is the only establishment in the city which caters exclusively to this kind of trade and ever since the store had its beginning the trade has gradually increased until now they can hardly accommodate all their patrons. Wallace & Caron are enterprising business men and conservative. They are very popular with their patrons and can be relied upon in every respect.

GEORGE T. CALDWELL.

One of the best livery and boarding stables in this city is that of Geo. T. Caldwell. This stable has been well known to the public for the past nineteen years. Mr. Caldwell first was joint owner of the barn with his father, Jas. H. Caldwell, but three years ago Mr. Beggs purchased his father's interest. Just one year ago Mr. Caldwell purchased Mr. Beggs' interest and has since been sole proprietor of the barn. This is unquestionably the largest barn in town. The building utilized is of ample dimensions and provided with every modern convenience, having perfect sanitary conditions. Here will be found all manner of vehicles, hacks, buggies, etc., which are sent out with careful, experienced drivers at all hours. The livery equipment is considered one of the best in the city, including everything that can be found in an up-to-date livery. George T. Caldwell is an experienced and practical man, an excellent judge of horseflesh, and he conducts his business in a fair, honorable and upright manner. He enjoys the unbounded confidence of all having dealings with him.

ED. SCHRICHTER.

Merchant tailoring in its highest development is more than a profession, it is an art. To adapt the apparel to the man means more than to simply fit him. It means to harmonize colors and patterns to the wearer's individual peculiarities of build, to emphasize the good points and reduce the bad. Too few tailors possess this really artistic faculty, but among the few is Ed Schrichte, whose place of business is located on West Second street, and who has been established in our city in business for the past three years. He is noted among our citizens as belonging to the very highest class of tailors in this section and has always commanded the most exclusively fashionable trade in our city. He carries a choice and exhaustive stock of the best products of domestic and foreign looms, and employs the most skilled assistants, every garment being made under the personal supervision of Mr. Schrichte. Mr. Schrichte is a man thoroughly posted in the requirements of his patrons, artistic in his conception of garments and thoroughly posted in every detail of business.

MARTS—THE PHOTOGRAPHER.

The photographer in order to hold his reputation as a progressive and standard one, must keep abreast with the times. Photographer has enjoyed more novelties and improvements in the past ten years than any other business. Every day new things are coming on the market to improve the artistic in the photograph. Mr. Marts has been in this business for four years and during that time he has gained an enviable reputation for fairness and satisfactory workmanship. His studio is one of the most beautiful and complete in this part of the State. Mr. Marts is a skilled photographer and a very pleasant man personally. This happy combination is, no doubt, accountable for the large and influential trade he enjoys. In Mr. Marts we have an example of a man reaching the top of the ladder in a few short years by virtue of his own efforts and an appreciative public.

JOSEPH LUSHELL.

The tailors art is one of the most difficult to master in the wide range of business activity and requires special talent and capability. For this reason the leading tailors are comparatively few in numbers and prominent among these leaders, is Joseph Lushell, a gentleman of practical experience and training along every branch of the art. This house was established ten years ago, since which time unrivaled skill and taste displayed has developed a business of very flattering proportions. All the latest goods of the season in all styles, colors and shades are carried, and three competent tailors insure the customers the utmost promptness in the filling of orders. Mr. Lushell is among our most esteemed business men and citizens and his place of business, located in the Beher building, is one of the most popular in its line in the city.

FRANK WILSON.

In every city there exists stores which from the variety and size of stock carried and the moderate prices they are known to quote are made subjects of comment and notice. Such is the case with the establishment of the Frank Wilson Clothing store. This store deals principally in clothing and furnishing goods, in the prosecution of which business the house has become one of the leading and most successful one in the city. In all the lines handled, for fit and workmanship as well as strictly first-class materials, this house stands second to none in the city. This store has been doing business in our city for the past thirty years and Mr. Wilson has been sole proprietor for the past thirteen years. That the store has been eminently successful is fully shown by the large and influential patronage it enjoys and which daily increases. The line of clothing exhibits the latest styles and most popular makes, the men's furnishings comprise an endless variety of all kinds and styles. A specialty is made in the clothing line of the goods manufactured by Adler & Co. and Stearns & Bro., and in the hat line, of Jno B. Stetson's goods. The prices quoted by the store are always moderate, while the liberality displayed in the conduct of the business commends it favorably to all patrons.

CALLAGHAN, OLIVER & CO.

We have here in Rushville a store that is very unique. It is conducted entirely by ladies and enjoys a very liberal patronage. They deal exclusively in dry goods, and have a very extensive line. The store is well arranged and has a very beautiful entrance. The enterprising ladies who have shown themselves to be such successful merchants, are Miss Lottie Callaghan, Mrs. Belle Oliver Cosand, Miss Nelle Gantner and Mrs. Mariam Maunz Jones. The store has always been conducted by ladies and has enjoyed a steadily increasing trade since it first opened its doors five years ago. The ladies who conduct this popular store, are highly respected by all their business competitors. They also have in their employ one of our city's best dressmakers and are in a position to do high grades of work. It is to be hoped that these ladies will always meet with that degree of success which is due them for their courage and executive ability.

THOS. W. LYTLE.

The drug business is one that demands as its proprietors men of undoubted responsibility and character. It is a business which has as its end a vast amount of good or a vast amount of evil. In determining the character of an establishment of this kind we have but to determine the character of its proprietor. Mr. Thos. W. Lytle, who conducts one of our most popular pharmacies is no exception to this rule. During the time he has conducted his well known place he has enjoyed an unexcelled reputation for fairness and of compliance with the law. His business is limited absolutely to the legitimate drug trade. He has more than maintained the high reputation which John B. Wehrle enjoyed when he owned the place. The store is attractively fitted up, while the stock carried is at all times large and complete and includes carefully selected drugs, medicines and chemicals of every description, standard proprietary remedies and mineral waters and toilet goods. Mr. Lytle carries the famous Rexall line of drugs and his place is headquarters for the sale of Cooper's New Discovery. Physicians' prescriptions and family receipts are carefully and conscientiously compounded from pure, fresh ingredients and at most reasonable prices. He employs three clerks and in six months has built up a large following. Mr. Lytle is most heartily welcomed by our citizens both in a business and social way.

V. H. SCHMALZEL.

Our city is indeed fortunate in having a plentiful supply of reputable barber shops. In these days of contagious and questionable lotions, the health of a community to a certain extent is in the hands of our barbers. V. H. Schmalzel has for the past seventeen years ran a shop, which has stood as the very synonym of cleanliness. Mr. Schmalzel has in his employ two first-class barbers who have gained for him a greatly increased trade. He, himself, has personal charge of the shop and he gives his customers wants his personal attention. He has a very high class of trade of which he can justly be proud.

LOUIS C. LAMBERT.

There are many occupations where honesty and accuracy are essential, but none where it is more essential than in abstractors' business. Mr. Lambert has followed this business for many years and has consequently become expert in abstracting titles. He is without doubt one of the most capable and conservative men in this line of work and does his business in a conservative, accurate manner. His large suite of offices over the Rush County National Bank are daily filled with clients who desire abstracts of title. His work has always been performed in a most satisfactory manner to all concerned and hence his large patronage. He numbers some of our most prominent citizens and corporations among his patrons. In addition to his abstract work, Mr. Lambert is prepared to loan money on real estate and also acts as agent for some of our standard insurance companies. Mr. Lambert, during his long business associations with Rushville people won an enviable reputation for fairness and honesty, which is gratifying to his patrons as well as himself.

DR. FRANK SMITH.

Dr. Frank Smith is a fine example of the fact that expert and thorough knowledge of a profession comes only through constant study and endeavor. He has been practicing here for fourteen years and during that time he has performed his work with great satisfaction to his patrons. His office is supplied with all the modern appliances. He is a graduate of the Indiana Dental College of Indianapolis, and later took a course at the Indianapolis Post-graduate school. He has shown splendid skill since his graduation at that institution and is looked up to among the alumni. He is painstaking and careful in all he undertakes and makes a specialty of difficult work. He is the only dentist in town that uses vitalized air in the extraction of teeth. The report to the effect that Dr. Smith was to leave town for larger fields is happily without foundation. He numbers among his patrons some of our best people, his high grade work being his constant recommendation. Personally Dr. Smith is thoroughly esteemed by his professional associates as well as the community generally and has most thoroughly deserved the success he has achieved. He enjoys the hearty respect of all his friends and patrons.

JAS. T. ARBUCKLE.

Not only are our business interests on a very prosperous and progressive footing and every legitimate trade line represented by houses of much more than local importance, but the skilled professions are in the hands of some of the county's ablest and most famous exponents. Especially is this true of the legal profession in which we have many shining lights and as corroborative of this statement we have but to mention the name of Jas. T. Arbuckle. Mr. Arbuckle, although he has been here but a comparatively short time, has already shown his sterling worth and legal ability. He received a splendid literary education at some of the best schools, and then took up the study of law in the office of an eminent practitioner. He practiced in Seymour Ind., for some time, but later moved to Rushville, where he was immediately recognized as a coming lawyer. Since that time he has more than fulfilled expectations and now he enjoys a very extensive practice. He has also been recognized politically, and served four years as deputy prosecuting attorney. In 1902, he ran for Congress, against Congressman Watson, but was defeated. He stands high in the Democratic party and is a leading light in local political circles. Mr. Arbuckle will always stand high in legal and business circles for he is a man with whose honesty and loyalty is an unswerving duty.

HAVENS BROS. GROCERY.

Prominent among our city's fancy and staple grocery establishments and one that is most enterprising and popular is Havens Bros. Grocery, owned by Lon H. ## Murderous Firebugs.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 29.—Henry Friday, twenty-seven years old, a prosperous farmer at Coesse, was shot and seriously wounded while his barn was burning, and he was brought to this city, where he underwent amputation of his leg. He said that he was aroused by noises at his barn, and upon running out of his house toward the burning structure he was shot. Last autumn his barn was burned by thieves. At that time Friday was the attacking force, using his revolver and compelling the incendiaries to retreat. Blood was found with the coming of daylight, indicating that he had wounded one or more of the marauders. The motive for the latest assault and incendiarism is thought to be in revenge for injury then received.

Farmers Wreck Auto.

Goshen, Ind., July 29.—A white steamer touring car belonging to Sol Mier & Co., bankers of Ligonier, Ind., was wrecked near Lagrange by striking a pile of rails, supposed to have been placed in the roads by farmers in the vicinity who are prejudiced against automobiles. Ahle, said to be an agent for "America's Smart Set," is under arrest, charged by Edwin M. Post, a broker, with attempted blackmail.

Threshers in Deadly Peril.

Vincennes, Ind., July 29.—While engaged in threshing wheat on the farm of Fred J. Myers in Harrison township, a stick of dynamite was discovered in a bundle just in time to avoid a horrible accident. The machine is owned by T. J. Sanders, who carries a full force of hands with the machine. This is the third attempt to wreck threshers in that neighborhood this season, and if the perpetrators of such heinous crimes are captured they will be summarily dealt with.

Lads Confessed.

Columbus, Ind., July 29.—Grover Myers, seventeen years old, who claims this city as his home, and Harvey Ogle of similar age, of Shelbyville, were arrested on the charge of stealing a horse from Everett Gorbett and a buggy and harness from William Smith, near Kurtz, Jackson county. ## A Double Hanging.

Natchez, Miss., July 29.—Alexander Winn and Nelson Walker, negroes convicted of having murdered Charles Hanck, a white trading boatman, were hanged at Vidalia, La. Neither man confessed.

A Japanese View.

London, July 29.—In an interview Koryello Takahashi, special finance commissioner of Japan, expresses himself as hopeful that peace will result from the coming negotiations. He bases this hope on his personal conviction that Japan's demands will be reasonable and that the true interests of Russia require that she make peace. The appointment of M. Witte, he adds, strengthens this hope. Should hostilities continue, Mr. Takahashi says, Japan is in a position to prosecute them successfully, as she has on hand as a result of the two recent loans the means to carry on the conflict for a considerable time, and if the war should continue there is no question that she will be able to borrow further.

Figures compiled by the board of state charities show that a total of 2,956 prisoners have been released from the Indiana reformatory and the state prison during the last eight years because of the operation of the indeterminate sentence and parole law. Of the number paroled, only 22 per cent have proved delinquent in complying with the conditions of their release. The majority of these have been returned to the institutions. Amos W. Butler, secretary of the board, is delighted with the practical operation of the law.

Slingers of Greece.

The Acanthians were considered the most skillful slingers of Greece. These weapons were used not only to throw stones, but balls of lead, and in some localities, especially in the plain of Marathon, many of these metal projectiles have been found. The relics are interesting from the inscriptions and devices cut upon them, which consist of the names of persons and appropriate epithets, the legend in many cases meaning when fully translated "Look out!"

When a Horse Is Down.

When a witness in an English court the other day remarked that it was necessary to sit on a horse's head when he was down to keep him quiet the judge replied: "Nothing of the kind. I have seen a lady keep a horse quiet in that way without soiling her gloves."

There was a large crowd present, and the game was well conducted. When Connersville visits Rushville it will be a little difficult to maintain the same score."

Drs. W. H. and W. C. Smith, this morning, performed operations upon Scott and Edith Buell, children of D. C. Buell, east of town, for the removal of ingrown toe nails. Two nails were taken off of Scott's feet and one from the little girl's foot. It was necessary to administer chloroform to the children in order to perform the operations. Both rallied nicely and are doing well.

The editor of the Tribune when he wrote the last three lines of that piece knew what he was talking about. The editor of the News, in his near-sightedness, did not see that by that statement, the editor of the Tribune meant that Rushville people knew how to behave themselves when they went to a neighboring town, and that Connersville people did not. Faded away, Connersville. You are getting it from everyone.

Wm. Bainbridge is building a new, modern brick house on his lots on Julian street. This residence will be something new to Rushville as it will be the first brick house, trimmed with stone. The house is being constructed with a hollow wall, which will add very much to the comfort of the building.

While out driving the team became frightened and upset the vehicle throwing the occupants out and Mrs. Spencer had her left leg broken in the fall.
